Capital: Concord Time: GMT - 5

Background: New Hampshire entered the Union on June 21, 1788, as the ninth of the 13 original states. Manufacturing and services (including tourism) are the leading industries. The state's name is taken from that of the English county of Hampshire. US President Franklin Pierce was born in New Hampshire. New Hampshire is known as the "Granite State". Its major cities are Concord (the capital), Manchester, Nashua, Rochester, and Portsmouth.

Population: According to the 1990 census, New Hampshire had 1,109,252 inhabitants, an increase of 20.5 per cent over 1980. The estimated population in 1997 was 1,172,709. In 1990 the average population density was 46 people per sq km (119 per sq mi). Most of the population was concentrated in the south-eastern part of the state. Whites made up 98 per cent of the population and blacks 0.6 per cent; additional population groups included 2,075 Native Americans and 2,314 people of Chinese descent. Approximately 11,300 people were of Latino background.

Location: New Hampshire, one of the New England states of the United States, bordered on the north by Quebec Province, Canada; on the east by Maine and the Atlantic Ocean; on the south by Massachusetts; and on the west by Vermont. The Connecticut River forms almost all the western border; Halls Stream forms part of the north-western boundary.

Area: New Hampshire has an area of 24,043 sq km (9,283 mi); 13 per cent of the land area is owned by the federal government. The state is roughly triangular in shape and has a maximum length of 291 km (181 mi) from north to south and a maximum width of 151 km (94 mi) from east to west. Elevations range from sea level, along the Atlantic Ocean, to 1,917 m (6,288 ft), from the top of Mount Washington, the highest peak of the north-eastern United States. The approximate mean elevation of the state is 305 m (1,000 ft). New Hampshire has a tidal shoreline of 211 km (131 mi). Three of the rocky Isles of Shoals, in the Atlantic, are part of the state.

Industries: New Hampshire has a small mining industry. Its more important mineral resources include granite, sand and gravel, gemstones, and mica.

The agricultural sector is also small, with nearly half of the annual agricultural income deriving from sales of livestock and livestock products. Leading farm commodities are dairy products, hay, chicken eggs, beef cattle, and apples. Other agricultural products include pigs, sheep, blueberries, turkeys, and greenhouse products.

About 83 per cent of the state is covered with forest, and each year substantial amounts of timber and pulp (for use in making paper) are produced. The state supports some fishing industry; the annual catch is valued at about $10 million. Lobster, shrimp, cod, tuna, and pollack are major components of the catch.

Manufacturing accounts for about 28 per cent of the annual gross state product. Chief manufactured products are industrial machinery, precision instruments, electronic equipment, rubber and plastic goods, printed materials, paper goods, primary metals, and clothing and textiles.

Ports and Harbors: Portsmouth NH
