Capital: Stockholm Time: GMT + 1

Background: A military power during the 17th century, Sweden has not participated in any war in almost two centuries. An armed neutrality was preserved in both World Wars. Sweden's long-successful economic formula of a capitalist system interlarded with substantial welfare elements has recently been undermined by high unemployment, rising maintenance costs, and a declining position in world markets. Indecision over the country's role in the political and economic integration of Europe caused Sweden not to join the EU until 1995, and to forgo the introduction of the euro in 1999.

Location: Northern Europe, bordering the Baltic Sea, Gulf of Bothnia, Kattegat, and Skagerrak, between Finland and Norway

Map References: Europe

Area: total: 449,964 sq km, land: 410,934 sq km, water: 39,030 sq km

Climate: temperate in south with cold, cloudy winters and cool, partly cloudy summers; subarctic in north

Terrain: mostly flat or gently rolling lowlands; mountains in west

Natural Resources: zinc, iron ore, lead, copper, silver, timber, uranium, hydropower

Population: 8,873,052 (July 2000 est.)

Nationality: noun: Swede(s), adjective: Swedish

Ethnic Groups: indigenous population: Swedes and Finnish and Lapp (Sami) minorities; foreign-born or first-generation immigrants: Finns, Yugoslavs, Danes, Norwegians, Greeks, Turks

Religions: Lutheran 87%, Roman Catholic, Orthodox, Baptist, Muslim, Jewish, Buddhist

Languages: Swedish, note: small Lapp- and Finnish-speaking minorities

Economy: Aided by peace and neutrality for the whole twentieth century, Sweden has achieved an enviable standard of living under a mixed system of high-tech capitalism and extensive welfare benefits. It has a modern distribution system, excellent internal and external communications, and a skilled labor force. Timber, hydropower, and iron ore constitute the resource base of an economy heavily oriented toward foreign trade. Privately owned firms account for about 90% of industrial output, of which the engineering sector accounts for 50% of output and exports. Agriculture accounts for only 2% of GDP and 2% of the jobs. In recent years, however, this extraordinarily favorable picture has been clouded by budgetary difficulties, inflation, high unemployment, and a gradual loss of competitiveness in international markets. Sweden has harmonized its economic policies with those of the EU, which it joined at the start of 1995. Sweden decided not to join the euro system at its outset in January 1999 but plans to hold a referendum in 2000 on whether to join. GDP growth is forecast for 4% in 2000, buttressed by solid consumer confidence.

Industries: iron and steel, precision equipment (bearings, radio and telephone parts, armaments), wood pulp and paper products, processed foods, motor vehicles

Currency: 1 Swedish krona (SKR) = 100 ore

Railways: total: 12,821 km (includes 3,594 km of privately-owned railways), standard gauge: 12,821 km 1.435-m gauge (7,918 km electrified and 1,152 km double track) (1998)

Highways: total: 210,907 km, paved: 163,453 km (including 1,439 km of expressways), unpaved: 47,454 km (1998 est.)

Waterways: 2,052 km navigable for small steamers and barges

Ports and Harbors: Gävle, Göteborg, Halmstad, Helsingborg, Hudiksvall, Kalmar, Karlshamn, Malmö, Solvesborg, Stockholm, Sundsvall

Airports: 256 (1999 est.) Airports - with paved runways: total: 147, over 3,047 m: 3, 2,438 to 3,047 m: 11, 1,524 to 2,437 m: 80, 914 to 1,523 m: 28, under 914 m: 25 (1999 est.) Airports - with unpaved runways: total: 109, 914 to 1,523 m: 5, under 914 m: 104 (1999 est.)

Heliports: 1 (1999 est.)

Visa: required by all except the following nationals of: British, Australian, Canadian, USA, other EU and Japanese.

Duty Free: permitted goods: 200 cigarettes or 100 cigarillos or 50 cigars or 250g of tobacco (can be imported by passengers of 15 years or over); 1 litre spirits over 22 percent or 2 litres wine; a reasonable quantity of perfume; gifts up to a value of SKr1000.

Health: Lyme disease is relatively common in the south of the country, especially during the summer months.
